A saddle at $w = 0.26$ separates the peak of 1.00 from a lower peak of 0.72 illustrative two-trait landscape $w(z_1, z_2)$ · the shape in 3D, and the same values from above to read them analytic landscape from examples/python/_common.py, illustrative · pgfplots_landscape.tex · git 99753b9-dirty